Save space and money with one easy-to-use machine

The Brother FAX-2480C is the all-in-one solution for all of your small business needs. In addition to its fax, copy and photo printing capabilities, the FAX-2480C comes equipped with a useful telephone handset, making it the ideal machine for any small business or home office.

With fast print speeds you can print documents on demand and due to the smaller ink droplet size, the output quality for complex graphics and photographic images is clearer with more definition.

High quality professional prints

Produce professional documents and complex charts at speeds that won't leave you frustrated while you wait. Borderless photo quality printing allows you to reproduce professional photo lab quality prints.

Multi-source flatbed copying made easy

Colour copies can be made without the use of a PC giving you the convenience of a standalone copier at your desk. Brother's FAX-2480C is fully equipped to replicate black and white or colour documents at the touch of a button. Its automatic document feeder makes copying multi page documents simple, plus with the flatbed's adjustable hinge design, thick bound documents pose no problem when copying.

Versatile fax facility

An essential tool for any business, the FAX-2480C lets you send and receive mono faxes whilst quality colour faxes can be sent and received with other colour fax compatible machines. The PC-Fax function enables you to instantly send faxes from your PC. With its 10 quick dials and 80 speed dial locations you can store your most frequently used contacts and recover their details instantly – saving you time. You'll never risk losing vital information because the 250 page memory will store incoming faxes should you run out of paper. The telephone handset completes your communication package.
